Ford Crown Victoria NYPD Police Car (2002)

Blue & White with fully functional Roof Beacon & Siren

The Ford Crown Victoria Police Interceptor (CVPI), known as the P71, is a specially equipped law enforcement car manufactured by Ford from 1992 to 2011. It came with a more powerful 4.6 litre V8 engine with enhanced cooling systems allowing the P71 to handle extended idling and high-speed pursuits. It was a rear wheel drive with a heavy-duty transmission for increased durability. The P71 had a reinforced frame and suspension components, stiffer springs and shocks improving handling during pursuit manoeuvres.

The P71 Police Interceptor was used by NYPD from 1992 until production ended in 2011. Some of these cars remain in service to this day.

Our car is complete with nudge bars, functioning emergency roof light bar with additional amber signals, wig wag headlamps, high energy strobes and various high powered sirens. Inside is police radios, in car computer and video camera.

As well as TV and Movie Production, this car is ideally suited for Weddings, Party's, Retirements, Corporate Events, Catalogue or Advert Photo-shoots.
